A good granite quarry has been opined on Nelson island, and a company is actively prosecuting development work. Considera-the, of thought has already been shipped to beattle to be use for building.

Beattle papers, such as the Journal and those of its kind, are already referring exilitantly to Portland's loss by the flood, and exaggeration seems to be the order of the day. A sight of the streets recently covered with water, now showing no trace of unusual occurrence, will show that Portland has not become the football. has not been seriously affected by the rise of

The people of the Upper Chebalis valley have presented a petition to the county commissioners for an suppopriation for a bridge over the river at some point either above or below. Under this height steffed the neades of Thore than one hundred ciffers of township 18, which is putirely outside the described boundaries.

On Baturday a reporter of the Tacoma Globe visited several of the employment offices to acceptain the condition of the labor market in that city, and in each place the reports were somewhat similar and to the effect that there were sammler of idle men on account of the recont wet weather and the fact that new buildings are not being pushed and will not be till the season clears.

There is a good control of public discussion hat have a now the propertion of the volume of our carreless, of our population. There pently to be the reral impression abroad, as there, is in the diames of partial and temporary countries at angration, that there has the control of the diames of the control has the contraction of the currier but there is less money in the country tage that there was when times were better. The people who want free coingreof saver hase their demand man the asof style hase their demand up in the as-sumption that the culrepecy has been com-try school the widdrawsh of national bank-more and the coking up of coin in the treasury and that there is not enoughly defined willes, the inflation per periory out that the depreciation in the value of farm products, is the result of an undily contracted cur-repressing the perior of the suf-ferness of influent interest is to put more fering an lengtural interest is to put more money in circulation. This is a natural enough error, kecause This is a natural enough error, because the effect of a sasson of business depression, when the funde and trade of a country is exactly the same as a diministration of the volume of currency in circulation. Unhappilly, this effect is one that rannot be prevented by putting out more unkey. Its cause is not about the secreity of figures, but a relative indisposition on the part of those having it to risk it in productive enterprises. Money is scarce in seasons of communercial quiescence, but because there is not plenty of it in the country, but because these havof it in the country, but because these hav of its the country, but receased these have ing it withdraw it from the active and rapid circulation of product ye and speculative enterprise and lock it, up in fatter investments, where it is turned over less often and plays a smaller relative part in the business of the country; that is, capitalists stop railroad building, limit the amount of industrial residenting cease buyannual stop rainfait woulding, nease buying and developing wild lands and fight sby of all speculative interprises, and put their money into interest-paying securities or some form of old established and safe investment. This difficulties the amount of money poid aut in wages, and the apidity with which money is turned over in trade, immits the credit which, when freshy extended, makes one dotler do the work of two or three, and lessens the apparent voltwo or three, and less the appearance of most of currency in actual use without affecting its real quantity. This condition of things can not be changed by putting out more money. The new currency would follow the same course as the did, and seek

In point of fact, recent statistics show that the volume of the currency in actual circulation in the United States on January 1, 130) was not, only larger absolutely than at any previous time in the history of the country, but larger relatively to population than in any year since 1885, and probably larger than in any year since 1883. The Joult arises from uncertainty as to the pres-ent population. Taking the estimates of the cessus bureau, the amount of money in circulation percepita, is $22.30. Taking the astimate for population of the New York Tribine, which has recently made as exhaustive stratations and yor this subject, the amount of money per capita is $21 68. In an article upon the anount of currency per capita of population, the Tilbune prints a very instructive tuble covering the years from 1879 to 1890, the reast important items of which are herewith given:

In explanation of this table, the Tribune "If the official ostimutes of population be preferred, the amounts per capita for the later years would be a little larger—for January, 1690, about $22.30. But it is be-lieved that the census will show that the above estimates are more nearly cornect." It will be observed that in nine years the circulation per capita has never-heen higher than $22 37, in the year 1883, which is but 71 cents more than the present circulation, nor ower then $20 34, in President Claveland's Birst year, which is 82 cents below the present circulation. Thus far the administra-tion of President Harrison has succeeded admirably in preventing the accumulation of money in the treasury and consequent the river contraction of the currency in actual circulation. This has been accomplished by persistence in the policy of biying bonds, which this administration in nertical from the last, but, which was permished to full into disuse in the last, we are respectively. in the last year or two of Cheveland's admin-istration, in order to magnify the surplus and belp make capital for his free trade legislation scheme.

Scarcely less interesting than the main conclusions of this table is the light it throws upon the distribution of the currence in different years. While the entire amount of money per capita has only increased since 1879, from $17.02 to $21.66, or about per cent, the amount of gold coin has in-creased from $2 04 to $5.69, or nearly 200 per cent. To spite of the large amount of silver coined the amount actually in circulation has only increased in twelve years from 12 to 93 cents per capita. Legal tenders bave remained nearly stationary, while the Nestonal bank currency has decreased from $6.52 to $2.92, by surrender of circulation by be ks. The greatest increase has been in silver certificates, which silvar certificates, which have grown from practically nothing to $4.28. This more than bulances the decline in bank notes. Gold certificates have increased from 44 cents to $1 %. Attogether the table shows our currency of a much sounder basis than in 1879. The paper currency is about the asme per cupits as than and nearly the en-tire therease, about $3.60 per capita, has been in call. been in gold.

The Montana legislature rivals that Washington in making a speciacle of itself, perhaps with a little more excuse. The equally divided senate has found a way to vary the rather monotonous entertainment It has been siving since early in the winter. The republicans, having control of the organization, undertook to compel the attendance of members so that they could count them as a quorum under the rule and precedent established by Speaker Reed.
Whereapen the demourats took to the woods, with the sergeout-te-ings at their heels. One was captured within the limits of the state and taken back within the milts of the state and taxon panels to Helena, only to escape before his presence, could be utilized in legislation, with the fileof some of his party friends. Most of the others got out of the state. There is quite a little colony of them at Spokane Falls. It is probable that this gow exercise of authorally on the part of the senate grew out of the recent supreme court decision legalizing the republican house of representatives. That gave the republicans control of both houses of the legislature, with the casting vote of Lieutepant-Governor Rickards, and gave them power to pass appropriation buls and enact laws. This was just the right place for the democrati to yield gracefully but they lacked the sen 3 to see if. Their schoolboy trick of running away to world being present at the injetings of the senate isansworthy the dignity of chosen representatives of even a respectable publical party. It will discredit the democrats a public opinion and cost their some of the genuine sympathy they had it their studiors light for what they thought their rights. The extremes to which hold parties are going in the legislative war his Molitana indicate a singularly bitter and excited state of feeling, which seems to have descent or bare described and to have become personal. The pext election in Montana will be what the gentlemen of the ring call a fight for blood. is now or the the dismits of chosen represen-

present century. Alumnolds wrote of Neargus: "It appears probable that this province will be fixed upon for the great work of the junction of the two occars."

Total ment of this prediction me had long postponement, and during some years appeared to make it probable that Nierragus would be permagently eclipsed or sundanted. But infure at Darien has brought Nierragus into fresh prominence, till now, it seems within probability that the underficiling at the latter place, far from being set book indefinitely by the Darien project, has in fact then promoted, and may be led to success by it.

All classreers, from Rupobalt's time-to, the present day, have joined in bearing testinously folded for the class that Nierragus presented fewer difficulties to be surmounted in other part of the long American jathmas. It was not solid judgment, but an ambitious enthusism of the same Galite quality, that led the French to Moscow in 1812, that produced the mistuken clore of 185 Lesseps at Fanchus. Perhaps the best parallel to it in history is the effort made by order of Kerxeskudig down Mount Athos. At Panthe matthen ruot of the Lessens at Juneau. Perhaps the best parallel to it in history is the effort made by order of Xerxes to dig down Mount Athos. In Panama the undertaking was the more impossible from the pestilential circate, and from the utter fuffility of proposing to control a considerable water-equive in a region subject to a prodigious rainfal. At Nicaregua, on the con rary, the climate is healthful; the region les in the trade-wind belt, and therefore, though tropical, is not subject to excessive seat; the excendular required will be nothing in comparison with that attempted at Popuma, and by river and take there is a natural channel for three-fourths of the whole d stance. Construction of three locks will lift vessels from the ocean to the level of the lake, and above the lake level the highe summit to be cut is only forty-three feet. These certainty are practical conditions for the engineer.

Admiral Daniel Ammen, now on the re-

Admiral Daniel Ammen, now on the re-fired list of the navy, is a recognized author-ity, on, the various, ashmian canal routes. No one has studied all of them more thor-oughly than be. During many years he has maintained that Nicaragua offers hot only the most practicable route, but in fact the only practicable one; and throughout the whole period of the De Lesseps effort at whole period of the De Lessaps effort at Panams, he predicted that that effort would surely 'all,' because it was an attempt to perior the impossible. The sum of money necessary for the work, he maintained, even if the work could be carried through, would be so enormous as to make the theorytics, in a find tick all sums, a colossal failure. But it is believed that the canal at Nickraguacan be constructed and not in control with be constructed and put in operation with less than one hundred million doffars. Put it, however, at one hundred and fifty fullions, and the sum will be less than one millions, and the sum will be rest than old half that already squandered on the Panama.

The time will come when the United States will find it necessary and imperative to pro-mote lac construction of this canal. In what way this is to be done to get to be decided. The canal ought to be open, and in-deed in ust be open, to the commerce of the world, and yet it should be under the protec-tion of the United States, as the canal at Suce is under protection of Great Britain. This our national interests require.

The opening of the new opera house in Portland yesterday surpassed expectations in every respect. Apparently every sent in the house was filled, insuring the success of the week's engagement. The artistic completeness of the performance has rarely been approached in this city and, of course, never equaled, so necessary to dramatic completeness are the accessories of an ample stage and fitting equipment. Socially, the event was one long to be remembered, as it has been eagerly anticipated by those who make up society. CURRENCY PER CAPITA.

There is a good of all of public discussion sist no cabout the proportion of the volume of our corrence to our population. There perms to be a secretal impression; abroad, as there is it as times of partial and temporacy commercial stagnation, that there has lead to commercial stagnation, that there has lead to the course of the there is a less money in the course of the people who want free coinage of sever, base their demand upon the search of the course of the coinage of severy the withdrawal of national bank upon and the locking up of coin in the free course of the coinage in circulation to meet has a contract of the coinage of the transplate that the sade angular for-tration to meet be a sade of trade. Their allies, the chilation people, cry out that the depreciation in the value of farm products is the result of an induly contracted cur-rency, and that the way to relieve the soffet my agricultural interest is to put more money in directation.

This is a natural enough error because the effect of season of business epicesion upon the finance and trade of a country is exactly the same as a Kliminution of the volume of currency in circulation. Unhep-pity, this effect is one that cannot be pre-vented by nutting out more meney. Its cause is not also alterented of meney, but relative indisposition on the part of those having it to rick it in productive enterprises, Money is scarce in seasons of communeroid quiescence, not because there is not plenty it in the country, but because those bar ing it withdraw it from the active said rapid circulation of productive and a sciulative enterprise and lock it up in fater in-vestments, where it is turned over tea-often and plays a smaller relative part in the business of the country; that is, andi-talists [stop ratiroed, building, limit the amount of industrial production, case buy-ing and developing wild lands and ight aby of all speculative enterprises, and put their of an speculative energities, and the tuber money into interest-paying securities or some form of old established and safe investment. This diminishes the inpount of money paid out in wages, and the rapidity with which money is turned over in trade, with which money is turned over in trade, limits the credit which, when freely ex-tended, makes one dollar do the work of two or three, and lessens the apparent vol-time of currency in actual use without at-fecting its real quantity. This condition of things can not be changed by putting out more money. The new churrency would fol-low the same course as the lold, and seek shelter in safe investment until business confidence is restored, and a season of industrial activity, commercial enterprise, expansion credit and speculative excitement sets in. La point of fact, recent statistics show that the volume of the currency in actual circulation in the United States on January 1, 1890 was not only larger absolutely than at any previous time in the history of the country, but larger relatively to population

While the entire amount of money per capite has only nereased, since 1879, from $17-02 to $21 66, or about 20 since 1879, from $17.02 to $21 55, or about 20 per cent. the amount of gold cole has increased from $2.03 to $5.58, or nearly 200 per cent. In spite of the large amount of silver coloned the amount actually in circulation has only increased in twelve years from 12 to 93 cents per capits. Legal tenders have remained nearly stationary while the trom 12 to 93 cents per capits. Ligal tenders have romained nearly stationary, while the National bank currency has decreased from $6.52 to $2.93, by antiender of circulation by banks. The greatest increase his been in silver certificates, which have grown, from practically nothing to $4.28. This more than blances the decline in bank notes. Gold certificates have increased from 44 cents to $1.96. Altogether the table shows our currency on a much sounder have the pur currency on a much sounder basis the in 1879. The paper currency is about the same per capita as them and nearly the entire increase, about $3 60 per capita, has been in cold.

The Montana legislature rivals that of Washington in making a special of itself; perhaps with a little more excuse. The equally divided senate has found a way to vary the rather monotonous entertainment It has been giving since early in the winter. The republicans, having controlled the or-ganization, nutertook to compel the attend-ance, of members so that they could count them as a quorum under the rule and preoedent established by Speaker Reed. Whereupon the democrats took to the woods, with the sergentlat-aims at that hegis. One was captured within the limits of the state and taxen back to Helena, only to escape before his aresence to triena, only to escape before misaresence, could be nullzed in legislation, with the aid of some of his party-friends. Most of the others got ont of the state. There is quite a little colony of them at Spokane Fails. It is modelable that the property of the state. little colony of them at Spokane Falls. It is probable that this new exercise of authority on the part of the senate grew out of the recent supreme court decision begulzing the republican house of representatives. That gave, the agonetic mouse of the captrol of both houses of the logislature, with the vasting vote of Licatemant-Governor Rickards, and gave them power to pass appropriation bits and enact laws. This was just the right place for the democrate to yield gracefully, but for the democrats to yield gracefully, but they lacked the sense to see it. Their schoolboy trick of running eway to avoid being present at the meetings of the senate is noworthy the dignity of chosen representatives of ewen a respectable poilt cult party. It will discredit the democrats in public opinion and cost them some of the genuine sympathy they had; in their stat born fight for what they thought their rights. The extremes to which both parties are going in the legislative war in Montain indicate a singularly bitter and excited state of feeling. singularly bitter and excited state of feeling. which seems to have ceased to be entirely political and to have become personal. The next election in Montana will be what the gentlemen of the ring call a light for blood.

THE NICHTAGUA CANAL.

After his return to Europe from his tour After his returnite Europe from his tour of America, shortly after the legiming of the present century. Humboldt wroty for Nicaragud; "It appears prohable that this province will be fixed upon for the great work of the junction of the two oceans." Fulfillment of this prediction has had long postponement, and thring some years past concentration of effort at Durion has appeared to make it probable that Nigaragua would be per vanishity collineat or "sun-would be per unactily eclipsed or sun-planted. But fallure at Darien has brought. Nicaragua into fresh prominence, till now, it seems within probability that the under-taking at the letter place, far from being set. ack indefinitetly by the Darien project, has in fact been promoted, and may be led to success by it.

All observers, from Humboldt's time to the present day, have joined in bearing tes-timony to the fact that Sicaragua, presented fewer difficulties to be surmounted in construction of a canal to unite the oceans than struction of a canal to unite the oceans than any other part of the long American isthmus. It was not solid judgment, but an ambitious entbusiasm of the same Galite quality, that led the French to Moscow, in 1812, that produced the mistaken effort of Pe Lössepp at Panama. Perhaps the best parallel to it in history is the effort made by order of Moscow and the most parallel to it in history is the effort made by order of Moscow and the most parallel to it in history is the effort made by order of Moscow and Mount Athos. A Panama the utder taking was the more impossible from the pestilential climate, and from the utder taking was the more impossible from the pestilential climate, and from the utder taking was the more impossible from the proposing to control a considerable water-course in a reg on subject to a prodigious cantiall. A Nicersqua, on the contrary, the climate is healthful the region lies in the trade-wind belt, and therefore, though tropic, it is not subject to exceed the contrary of the produced will be nothing to comparison with that attempted at Panama, and by giver and lake there is a hatural channel for three-fourths of the whole distance. Construction for peocles will hift vessels from the cocan to the level of whole distance. Construction of three locks will lift vessels from the ocean to the level of the lake, and above the lake level the highest summit to be cut to only forty-three feet. These certainty are practical conditions for the engineer.
Admiral Daniel Ammen, now on the re-

Admiral Dahlel Ammen, now on the re-tired list of the davy, is a recognized author-ity on the various isthmian canal routes. No one has studied all of them more thor-oughly than he. During many years he has maintained that Ricaragin offers not only the most practicable one; and throughout the only practicable one; and throughout the whole period of the De Lesman affort at Panama he predicted that that effort would surely, fall, because it was, an attempt to perform the impossible. The sum of money necessary for the work, he maintained, even necessary for the work, he maintained, even if the work could be carried through, would be so thormous as to make the enterprise, the initiancial sense, a colossal futiure. But it is believed that the canal at Nicaragua can per capita of population, the Tribune prints a very instructive table covering the years from 1879 to 1800, the most important items be constructed and put in operation with less than one hundred million dellurs. Put it, however, at one hundred and fifty millions, and the sum will be less than opehalf that already squandered on the Pansina

The time will come when the United States will find it necessary and imporative to pro-mote the construction of this canal. In what way this is to be done is yet to be decided. The capal ought to be open, and in-deed must be open, to the commerce of the world and yet it should be under the protec-tion of the United States, as the canal at world and yet it sheeld be under the protection of Great Britain.

Apparently every seat in the house was filled, insuring the succession of the ways. of the week's engagement. completeness of the penformance has rarely been approached in this city and, of course, never equated,—so, necessary to dramatic completeness are the accessories of an ample stage and fitting equipment. Socially the event was one long to be remembered, as it has been eager y anticipated by those who make up scolety. The house itself is singularly attractive, with its compact arrangement, modest harmony of color and good acquistic properties.

The Pacific coast had its innings in the public building committee of the senate yesterday.
